CHAPTER 1 DEFINITIONS

As used in these standards and guidelines, unless the context otherwise requires:

Approved mentoring panel means Certified Disordered Gambling Counselors appointed by the Director to serve as mentoring panel members.

Approved continuing education means courses, seminars, workshops, lectures, institutes or training programs that pertain to the clinical knowledge and skills associated with disordered gambling therapy services.

Assessment means the process used by a counselor to evaluate the nature and severity of the client's gambling-related problems and behaviors. This will include, but is not limited to, use of interview and testing techniques to identify potential co-morbid disorders for which consultation or referral may be appropriate.

Board means the Disordered Gambling Counselor Certification Advisory Board.

Case management means the coordination of client care throughout the treatment process. This will frequently involve referral to other professionals or support systems to match client needs with appropriate resources.

Certification means the process by which the Nebraska Gamblers Assistance Program sets minimum standards for certification of disordered gambling counselors and grants recognition of individuals who have met those standards.

Certified Disordered Gambling Counselor (CDGC) or Counselor means a person who has met the standards for certification under these guidelines and holds a valid certificate issued by the Nebraska Gamblers Assistance Program. An individual may not represent himself or herself as a Certified Disordered Gambling Counselor unless he or she holds a valid certificate.

Clinical mentoring consultation call means a virtual forum using Zoom or another comparable web-based platform hosted by an approved mentoring panel, during which counseling topics are discussed among the panel and one or more provisionally certified disordered gambling counselors.

Code of ethics means the mandatory behavioral guidelines set forth in these standards to govern the conduct of certified disordered gambling counselors.

Commission means the Nebraska Commission on Problem Gambling.

Complainant means a person who has filed a complaint pursuant to the procedures in these standards against any person who is seeking or has obtained certification.

Counselor performance domains means the duties required of a disordered gambling counselor. These are client and family education, intake and assessment, counseling, case management, and professional responsibility.

Disordered gambling client means a person with a diagnosis of gambling disorder based upon the criteria in the current edition of the Diagnostic and Statistical Manual of the American Psychiatric Association who receives services from the Gamblers Assistance Program. It also refers to any individual significantly impacted by a family member's gambling behavior, and who is the recipient of disordered gambling counseling services provided by a counselor under contract with this Program.

Disordered gambling counseling means providing counseling services to disordered gambling clients for remuneration.

Education means formal classroom education or instruction in the form of workshops, seminars, institutes, college or university course work, online classes and self-directed study as authorized in Chapter 5 of these standards.

Family member treatment means therapy services provided to people who are in a family or comparable domestic relationship with a disordered gambling client who are either impacted by the disordered gambling or, in turn, impact the gambler.

Gambling Disorder is the term used in the DSM-V 312.31 (F63.0). This term is synonymous with DSM IV Pathological Gambling to the extent that the diagnostic criteria are the same. It may also be referred to as compulsive gambling or gambling addiction. The term "problem gambling" as it appears in Nebraska statutes refers to the entire spectrum of life problems that may result from disordered gambling behavior.

Hour of education means 60 minutes of instruction. One hour of post-secondary academic credit per semester constitutes 15 hours of education. An hour of post-secondary academic credit per quarter constitutes 10 hours of education. One online hour means instruction offered by an approved online training program granting one hour of credit for the training.

Inactive certification means the voluntary termination of the right or privilege to practice disordered gambling counseling and use of the title Certified. The certificate holder retains the right or privilege to represent himself or herself as having an inactive certificate.

Incompetence means proven lack of proficiency, skill or ability to perform the duties and functions of a disordered gambling counselor.

Intake means the process by which a client is diagnosed and oriented to the treatment process by review of therapeutic goals, costs, expectations, rights and responsibilities. This will also include the gathering of relevant client data for administrative, research, and clinical purposes with the client's written informed consent.

Lapsed or expired certification means the termination of the ability to represent oneself as a certified disordered gambling counselor, and to practice disordered gambling counseling under contract with the Program.

Professional means an individual who possesses specialized knowledge and skills in a field of endeavor, which is readily accepted and recognized by other practitioners in the profession and the public, and for which remuneration or fees for services is received.

Professional responsibility includes adherence to the code of ethics outlined in these standards and guidelines and the generally accepted standards of care applicable to practitioners in the fields of behavioral health services, maintaining appropriate clinical records, seeking consultation when needed, and completion of continuing education for professional growth.

Program means the Nebraska Gamblers Assistance Program.

Provisional Certificate means a certificate issued by the Commission on the recommendation of the Certification Advisory Board that authorizes an individual to provide treatment services on the terms provided in Chapter 3.

Shall means required.
